American Legion - Temporary Financial Assistance

Website: <http://www.legion.org/financialassistance>

Overview: Since its establishment in 1925, The American Legion Temporary Financial Assistance (TFA) program has awarded cash grants to minor children of veterans who are eligible for American Legion membership. These grants help families in need meet the cost of shelter, food, utilities and health expenses, thereby keeping the child or children in a more stable environment.

Eligibility: TFA is limited to minor children (17 years or younger) whose biological parent, or legal guardian, is a veteran and is, or would have been, eligible for American Legion membership. However, Legion membership is not required. Children 18-20 years old will also be considered if a current disability requires special schooling or indefinite in-home care, or they are enrolled in an approved high school and unmarried. To be eligible for Legion membership, the parent or guardian must have served at least one day of active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States during one of the following periods:

Dec. 7, 1941-Dec. 31, 1946

June 25, 1950-Jan. 31, 1955

Feb. 28, 1961-May 7, 1975

August 24, 1982-July 31, 1984

Dec. 20, 1989-Jan. 31, 1990

Aug. 2, 1990-Cessation of hostilities as determined by the U.S. Government.

No child is considered eligible for Temporary Financial Assistance until a complete investigation is conducted at the post or department level; a legitimate family need is determined; and all other available assistance resources have been utilized or exhausted. Additionally, the TFA application must originate and be filled out by someone at the local level. To find your local American Legion, visit their Post Locator, <http://www.legion.org/financialassistance>.

Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary (DAVA)

Website: <http://auxiliary.dav.org/membership/Programs.aspx>

Overview: Their program was established to assist those who find they are temporarily unable to meet outstanding financial obligations such as utility bills, mortgage payments, hospital bills, etc. One-time financial assistance up to, but not more than, $1,000 is available. Assistance is limited to one grant per household.

Eligibility: Must be an Auxiliary Member in good standing for at least one year and the amount granted shall be based on financial need, length of membership and funds available. To find your local DAVA unit, visit <http://auxiliary.dav.org/membership/FindUnit.aspx>

Hope Now – Homeowner’s Programs

Website: <http://www.hopenow.com/>

Overview: HOPE NOW is an alliance between counselors, mortgage companies, investors, and other mortgage market participants. This alliance will maximize outreach efforts to homeowners in distress to help them stay in their homes and will create a unified, coordinated plan to reach and help as many homeowners as possible. The members of this alliance recognize that by working together, they will be more effective than by working independently.

If you think you may be in danger of foreclosure, it is time to call the Homeowner's HOPE™ Hotline at 888-995-HOPE™, a counseling service provided by the Homeownership Preservation Foundation. The sooner you call, the sooner you can regain your peace of mind. Remember, you're not alone. Millions of people across the United States have trouble with their mortgage every year. Since 2002, the HPF network of counselors has provided advice and education to more than 500,000 homeowners.

Eligibility: Everyone.

Supporting Documents: HOPE NOW has been offering assistance to homeowners since 2007 and 5.7 million have received loan modifications from our mortgage servicing members. To learn all about HOPE NOW, download brochure:

WIC

Website: <http://www.fns.usda.gov/wic>

Overview: WIC provides supplemental foods, healthcare referrals, nutrition education, and breastfeeding promotion and support to low-income pregnant, breastfeeding, and postpartum women, and to infants and children up to age five who are found to be at nutritional risk. To apply for WIC benefits, you must make an appointment at your WIC local agency.

Length of Participation: WIC is a short-term program. Therefore, a participant will "graduate" at the end of one or more certification periods. A certification period is the length of time a WIC participant is eligible to receive benefits. Depending on whether the individual is pregnant, postpartum, breastfeeding, an infant, or a child, an eligible individual usually receives WIC benefits from 6 months to a year, at which time she/he must reapply.

Eligibility: Applicants must meet all of the following eligibility requirements:

- Categorical
- Residential
- Income
- Nutrition Risk

WIC Prescreening Tool is available to assist you in determining your eligibility:
<http://wic.fns.usda.gov/wps/pages/start.jsf>

Contact the WIC State or local agency serving your area, to schedule an appointment.

SNAP

Website: <http://www.fns.usda.gov/snap>

Overview: SNAP offers nutrition assistance to millions of eligible, low-income individuals and families and provides economic benefits to communities. SNAP is the largest program in the domestic hunger safety net. The Food and Nutrition Service works with State agencies, nutrition educators, and neighborhood and faith-based organizations to ensure that those eligible for nutrition assistance can make informed decisions about applying for the program and can access benefits. FNS also works with State partners and the retail community to improve program administration and ensure program integrity.

Eligibility: For households in the 48 Contiguous States and the District of Columbia from October 1, 2012 through September 30, 2013, to get SNAP benefits, households must meet certain tests, including resource and income tests:

- Resources
- Income
- Deductions
- Employment Requirements
- Special Rules for Elderly or Disabled
- Immigrant Eligibility

Fannie Mae

Website: <http://www.fanniemae.com/portal/index.html>

The tool at <https://www.knowyouroptions.com/loanlookup> helps you quickly determine if Fannie Mae owns your loan. If Fannie Mae does, you may be eligible for programs designed to make your mortgage more affordable—like the Home Affordable Refinance Program (HARP) or the Home Affordable Modification Program (HAMP)—or for other programs available exclusively to Fannie Mae borrowers.

Housing Counselors
What is a housing counselor?

A HUD-approved housing counselor is an experienced, trained professional who can advise you on preventing foreclosure, buying a home, protecting your credit, and other issues. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) sponsors housing counseling agencies throughout the country and counseling is available in many languages.

Why work with a counselor?

A Housing Counselor Will:

- Explain what documents you will need to provide to your mortgage company and may be able to contact the mortgage company on your behalf

- Help you make a budget so that you can meet your monthly mortgage payment and other expenses

- Provide information about local resources that may be helpful to you

A housing counselor can talk to you about your situation and help you decide what mortgage options are best for you, whether you are concerned about falling behind on your mortgage or are preparing to buy a home. There is no charge to work with a HUD-approved housing counselor—help is free!

If you have missed any mortgage payments, are about to miss a payment, or if your loan already has been referred to an attorney for foreclosure, a HUD-approved housing counselor can help you assess your circumstances, identify your options and prepare you to talk with your mortgage company.

Before you call

Gather your financial information Make sure you have your basic financial and loan information on hand when you call. You'll need:

- Your mortgage statements, including information on a second mortgage (if applicable)
- Your other monthly debt payments (e.g., car or student loans, credit card payments), and
- Your income details (paystubs and income tax returns).

Explain your current situation. Be ready to outline your current hardship and explain why you are having trouble making your mortgage payment, and if this is a short-term or long-term problem. Your mortgage company will need to understand the reasons why you are having difficulty in order to find the right solution for you.

Eligibility: Everyone who owns a house.

Eligibility: Everyone.

Utility Companies

For energy assistance if you are having difficulty paying utilities please consider the following information:

Federal funds are distributed to assist eligible customers in paying heating and cooling bills. Eligibility factors include household size, total household income, heating source and type of dwelling. To determine eligibility, obtain an application for assistance or to receive more information about the program, contact your utility company.

TSP Loan

Website: <https://www.tsp.gov/planparticipation/loans/loanBasics.shtml>

Overview: The TSP Loan program allows you to borrow money from your account while you are employed by the Federal Government or while you are a member of the uniformed services. Before taking out a TSP loan, you should carefully consider its potential effect on your retirement income.

How a TSP Loan Works

When you take a TSP loan, you borrow from your TSP account. The amount of your TSP loan cannot exceed the amount of your own contributions and earnings from those contributions. So, if you work under the Federal Employees' Retirement System (FERS), you cannot borrow from any agency contributions or earnings from those contributions.

If you meet the loan eligibility rules and your loan request is approved, the loan amount is removed from your TSP account. You must repay your loan with interest. Repayments for the loan and interest are generally made through payroll deductions. Your repayments restore the amount of your loan, plus interest, to your account.

General Purpose Loan

- May be used for any purpose
- Requires no documentation
- Has a repayment term of 1 to 5 years
- The minimum TSP loan amount is $1,000.

Eligibility: To be eligible for a loan, you:

- Must be employed by the Federal Government or a member of the uniformed services.
- Must be in pay status because repayments are set up as payroll deductions.
- Can only have one outstanding general purpose loan and one outstanding residential loan from any one TSP account at a time.
- Must have at least $1,000 of your own contributions and earnings in your TSP account (agency contributions and earnings cannot be borrowed).
- Must not have repaid a TSP loan of the same type in full within the past 60 days. (If you have both a civilian TSP account and a uniformed services TSP account, the 60-day waiting period applies separately to each account.)
- Must not have had a taxable distribution of a loan within the past 12 months unless it was the result of your separation from Federal service.
- Must not have a court order against your TSP account.
